A THERAPEUTIC APPROACH

644 Atlantic Avenue
Collingswood, NJ 08108

All sessions and events include three segments: Beginning (introduction and demonstration by clay specialist), Middle (hands-on, creating time) and an End (sharing as a group or individual reflection).

Group Session: A specific project will be chosen based on the goal of the participants. During the hands-on segment, participants will create and paint their individual pieces. All are encouraged to share their own experience. Peer-to-peer feedback is strongly encouraged but not mandatory.

Individual session: The project(s) will be chosen based on the needs and abilities of the individual. The clay specialist will assist and guide the individual to the project being completed. All one-of-a-kind creations will be made and painted in each session.

Clay Life Celebration: Have a special occasion to celebrate? Is it for you or someone you know, someone you are proud of and care about? Have you stayed clean, lived another year, improved your grades, survived a crisis, quit smoking or lost weight? Who would you invite to celebrate your success story? Friends, family or co-workers... Your unique creations will serve as a reminder of your accomplishments.

Fundraising: Many different styles and ideas of tiles/tokens can be used as a way to raise money. The clay specialist will help you design your project that will help meet your needs and desired goals. For each fundraising project, there is a materials fee built into the price that your welcome to charge your audience. There are many possibilities in this area... ask us!

Mentoring: Are you a mentor to someone? If so this is a wonderful positive activity to do together in a relaxed atmosphere. As a team, you can work on a project together to foster a successful mentoring relationship.

Strengthening Connections

Professional Team Building/Stress Reduction: When was the last time you or the staff you work with were able to relax and create together as a team? The process of working with clay in pairs or groups will foster communication and expression in a non-threatening and fun way. This time also promotes bonding and can be used to enhance staff morale.

Parent/Child: Take time to bond with your child/children, making a one-of-a-kind piece. Children can be as young as 3 to participate. You will shape and paint the clay together. Creations vary from a plate with your child's hands and words expressing why you are special to them, to a 3D tile that illustrates something that makes your child happy. Sometimes a book will be used to provide inspiration for a project.

Couples: While working on a project together you will share with your partner ideas and strategies to create something from scratch. Beginning to end, planning and discussing choices and ideas, helps promote positive, effective communication in order to get the job done. All this while enjoying working through a creative process together.

Creative Quality Family Time: Decision making, listening to each other and then creating something that could become a family heirloom. How often does that happen?

Clay Creates... Pride. Healing. Success. Motivation. Relaxation.
